

9 October 2004

My dear colleague,

EAR & SINUS SURGERY WORKSHOP – 2004, like the previous workshops, was once again a great success. Thanks to all the participants. The three days were full of dynamism.

It is now time to organize the 5th workshop in Nashik. Our organizational task becomes daunting as we aim at continuous improvisation after achieving near excellence.

4th Ear and Sinus Surgery Workshop – 2004 had two unique features: (1) It was for the first time that hands on temporal bone and sinus dissection courses were conducted simultaneously for the delegates. (2) Also it was for the first time in India that all the cadaveric heads that were given for dissection were with Axial and Coronal CT scans. This enabled the delegates to get real life surgical situations in Anatomy Hall.

We wish to repeat the feat. We thus have hands on cadaveric sinus dissection for 30 delegates and temporal bone dissection for 10 delegates on first come first serve basis. This, otherwise nearly an impossible task, is possible only because of the support of Dr.Vasant Pawar (Sarchitnis of NDMVPS Medical College), Surgdent and Optofine Instruments Pvt. Ltd. However, please note that due to time constrains a delegate can either avail of cadaveric sinus dissection or temporal bone dissection. Dr.V.Anand (Coimbatore) and Dr.S.Indorewala (Nashik) along with other invited faculties will be guiding the delegates for the dissection.

We have a session of “Convivial Discussion with the Faculty” on 26th February. We expect all the delegates to actively participate in the discussion.

As a respect to the request from delegates we have increased the number of registration to 100. We intend to increase it no more. This is essentially to have a very close and personal interaction with the faculties. We suggest an early registration to avoid disappointment.

Our pride as always is our two-way four-channel excellent audio-visual system with a dedicated Conference Hall.

My letter will be incomplete without expressing my sincere thanks to HOD, Anatomy Department, Dr.Bagade and Principal Dr.Jape.

Please feel free to communicate and let us know your views so that we can further improve on the class and the contents of the workshop.

Sincerely yours,

Dr.Aboojiwala.
