

30 October 2005

My dear colleague,

By now we have organized 7 surgical workshops, and all of them have been a wonderful learning experience for the delegates, faculty and organizers. Without doubt, the success of the workshops is entirely due to active participation of the delegates.

As always we will have demonstration dissections followed by hands on temporal bone dissection and endoscopic sinus dissection. For hands on dissection, delegates will be able to use equipment like Carl Zeiss, PICO Microscope, Surgdent's, Henke Sas Endoscopes, Bein Air Micro-motor, Sopro Camera, etc. These hands on dissection will be followed by live surgical demonstrations by the faculty.

The temporal bone dissection will be demonstrated by Dr.Mohan Kameswaran. Dr.Hetal Patel will demonstrate endoscopic sinus dissection.

Our organizational task becomes daunting as we aim at continuous improvisation after achieving near excellence.

We will conduct hands on cadaveric sinus dissection for 30 delegates and temporal bone dissection for 20 delegates on first come first served basis. This, otherwise nearly an impossible task, is possible only because of the support of Dr.Vasant Pawar (Sarchitnis of NDMVPS Medical College), Surgdent & Carl Zeiss.

Dr.Kameswaran and Dr.Indorewala along with other invited faculty will be guiding the delegates for the dissection.

On the cards is a panel discussion by the faculty on 18th February. We encourage all the delegates to actively participate in the discussion so as to make it a truly interactive activity.

For the comfort of the delegates we have a dedicated, air-conditioned conference hall equipped with an excellent two-way four-channel audio-visual system.

My letter will be incomplete without expressing my sincere thanks to the Principal & HOD, Anatomy Department, NDMVPS Medical College.

Please feel free to communicate and let us know your views so that we can further improve the class and the content of the workshop.

Sincerely yours,

Dr.Shirish Ghan.
