

1 October 2003

My dear colleague,

EAR & SINUS SURGERY WORKSHOP – 2003 was a great success. Thanks to all the participants. The three days were typically full of life and vigor.

It is with immense pleasure and pride that I invite you for the 4th workshop to Nashik to be held in February 2004. We have been striving to achieve international standards and every year we are upgrading the quality and the content of the workshop, based on need of the delegates and the organizational experience we gather over the period of time.

In continuation of the same this time we have added hands on cadaveric dissection for 30 delegates and temporal bone dissection for 20 delegates on first come first serve basis. This, otherwise nearly an impossible task, is possible only because of the support of Dr.Vasant Pawar (Sarchitnis of NDMVPS Medical College), Karl-Storz, Carl-Zeiss & Surgdent. However, please note that due to time constrains a delegate can either avail of cadaveric sinus dissection or temporal bone dissection. Dr.Thulasi Das from Chennai and Dr.Indorewala along with other invited faculties will be guiding the delegates for the dissection.

Like last year we plan to have alternating ear and sinus surgery on Saturday and Sunday. Dr.Thulasi Das has kindly consented to demonstrate South Indian art of endoscopic sinus surgery with lots of practical tips. As usual, Dr.Indorewala will be demonstrating ear surgery with lots of handy and useful middle ear tricks.

We have a panel discussion on 7th February. We expect all the delegates to actively participate in the discussion.

Please note that we keep the number of delegates limited to 80 only. This is essentially to have a very close and personal discussion with the faculty. We suggest an early registration to avoid disappointment.

Quite naturally we are proud (without being uncomfortable) of our two-way four-channel excellent audio-visual system. This system will be at your disposal with further improvements.

We are further pleased to announce that Indorewala ENT Hospital has been accredited to National Board of Examination for DNB in ENT since July 2003.

My letter will be incomplete without expressing my sincere thanks to the Department of Anatomy and Principal Dr.M.R.Jape.

Please feel free to communicate and let us know your views so that we can further improve on the class and the contents of the workshop.

Sincerely yours,

Dr.Rajendra Pagare.
